

TOTAL OF SEVEN HUNDRED DECISIONS DURING REVIVAL

Meetings Last Night Result in Additional Conversions in City and County—Christian Church Has Added 130 to Membership—Remarkable Meeting in Northern Fayette—Baptist Church to Continue Meetings Remainder of Week.

(By Hugh C. Weir.)

Seven hundred confessions and church additions is the record with which the closing week of the Simultaneous Campaign opened last night.

Of this number, there have been three hundred conversion in the city churches, the remaining four hundred being distributed through the country.

Six confessions last night brought the total results of the Christian church meetings to 130, the largest individual record of the campaign.

Last evening an enthusiastic union service of the Methodist and Baptist churches was held at Grace M. E. church, with Rev. A. H. West presiding. Mr. West delivered a powerful sermon, which made a deep impression, on the conditions which Christ has imposed for admission to the Kingdom of God. "Except ye be as little children, ye cannot enter the Kingdom of God. This means that we must imbibe the innocence, the faith, and the love of the child for its father," said Mr. West.

It had been planned to close the services at the Baptist church, but such is the degree of interest manifested in the campaign that the meetings will continue at that church each evening of this week, conducted by Mr. West, who announces some practical, vital sermons.

The reports from the county indicate that the campaign is meeting with splendid results at all points. There have been 38 accessions to date at the Union Chapel, Yatesville, meetings, under the leadership of Rev. T. L. Haas. The services at Jeffersonville are also drawing large crowds. Rev. Haas and Rev. Doty are preaching there in turn.

The special choir will be maintained at Grace church through the balance of the week. Rev. F. E. Ross will deliver a series of strong evangelistic sermons.

H. C. Boblitt, who has done such excellent work at the Christian church, will continue in charge of the song services there during the week.

Special efforts are being put forth to make next Sunday a red letter day in the campaign, and the detailed program will be announced early in the week.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. It has now been demonstrated to be a local disease and prescribable local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drams to a pint, according directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

LITTLE STORIES ABOUT OHIO

BY CHARLES E. CHIDESTER

OHIO FLOUR A CURIOSITY.

The first flour exported, 80 years ago, by Ohio, was considered a curiosity by hundreds of New York City residents who gathered at the docks to see it.

The flour was manufactured and shipped by mills at Venice, Erie county, and it was predicted at the time by the New Yorkers that some day Ohio might supply them with 3,000 barrels a year.

This was in 1833 and from then on to 1840 most of the flour went west instead of east. Oliver Newberry, in 1834 bought 500 barrels of flour at Venice for $6 a barrel, shipped it to Chicago where he sold it for $20. The people of the then struggling village held a mass meeting and passed resolutions thanking Newberry for not asking them $50 a barrel. Newberry's consignment of 500 barrels was the only flour Chicago citizens received for the entire winter. The price of board in the village at the time was fabulously high, as the territory round about was practically non-productive.

Before the mills at Vance were built, Erie county farmers used to take their wheat by boat to mills operated by the French near Detroit. On one occasion a party of pioneers started with their year's crop for these mills, stopping over night at one of the islands of Lake Erie. While hunting for a suitable camping place the wind blew their craft with its treasure out to sea. The men spent a night anxious because of fear of loss of the wheat and of starvation on the island ended by the discovery in the morning that their boat had been washed back to shore.

Taking advantage of a stream which sprang from springs that bubbled forth from the ground at Castalia, the pioneers constructed a mill race to turn the wheels of the mills at Vance and thus did more for the prosperity and development of the territory than any men of their time. In 1810 the grist mill on what was known as the fire land section of the Western Reserve was built and continued to operate until Hull's surrender when fear of British invasion drove the settlers from the section.

this sort of research work. But in addition it will, like Berlin, extend the function to increase the fund of knowledge and at the same time multiply the number of investigators. Whenever there is found a graduate of great promise in any of the many universities and colleges in the land, this government should be able to assist him to further his investigations.

"Such men as the Langleys, the Bells, the Edisons, the Jordans, etc., should in their earlier years find a place under governmental management to pursue unhampered their schemes of research. The government, like that of Germany, can well afford not only to open the way but to supply the means to further the research. If in this capital, the greatest scientific center of the world such an institution was opened to attract such men as Lord Kelvin, Dr. Hertz, Prof. Pupine, Dr. Koch, Colonel Gorgas and hundreds of others, votaries of scientific research, this city would soon shelter the greatest group of investigators ever gathered in one place. Its influence would radiate to every part of the nation as no other single center in the country.

"The only approach we have in this country is the Smithsonian Institution. But the latter does not seek to increase the research workers, but seeks to increase new knowledge. While the former in its hunt for new knowledge devotes its chief energies to increasing the facilities to multiply research investigators. The Smithsonian Institution is not a university, but a most wonderful agency for advancing knowledge. In its sixty-eight years of existence it has contributed at least 12,000 titles, representing new and original knowledge. It is today in touch with at least 60,000 persons, and has an official affiliation with every learned society of the earth.

"It would easily dominate the character of the intellectual activity of the nation, and would be above the interference of the cheap politician or the narrow sectarian.

"The university is not to grant degrees. It is not to tolerate college spirit. It is not to be open to irresponsible collegiates. It is to be a place of research, open only to those who can win the price of scholarship set by our various institutions throughout the land. There will be no need of police regulations here. These research students will not be of the character where partisan, sectarian, sordid or any other narrowing influence can prevail."

CASE REPORTED TOO LATE TO SAVE SIGHT

Many Ohio Children Blind as Result of Neglect.

A large proportion of the children who are listed "blind from accident" at the State School for the Blind are in reality so from ignorance and neglect on the part of the well-meaning parents, who assume that the overworked general practitioner of the countryside has the expert knowledge of the eye specialist.

Here is a case in point which recently came to the attention of the Ohio Commission for the Blind. Unfortunately this case was reported too late to be of service to the child, except in giving advice to the stricken parents as to the best way to meet the problem of blindness, in an otherwise normal active boy.

While at play, the child fell and the point of a sharp pair of scissors en-

VILLA MOVING TOWARD SOUTH

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 3.—General Villa leaves Juarez today to return to Chihuahua city and dispatch his rebel soldiers south to the attack on Torreon.

It is announced in Juarez that Venustiano Carranza, aged leader of the Sonora rebels, is returning to Oacina, Sonora, from which point he will come by automobile to Juarez. Then, it is said, he means to proceed to Chihuahua city and establish himself as head of the Constitutional government.

Meantime, Villa is to have his troops in readiness for the attack upon Torreon. Carranza's minister of war, General Angeles, will join Villa as military adviser in the actual battle.

Since coming to Juarez, Villa has been supervising the construction of an armored automobile truck for use in the coming battle.

tered one eye. The injury was dressed by a general practitioner; the eye was painful for a while, but after that it did not demand attention, as the child was able to see with the good eye.

Months later, the good eye began to give trouble, and the patient was taken to a physician, who immediately advised consultation with a specialist. The operation for removing the injured eye came too late, as the good eye had become involved and total blindness resulted.

Had a specialist been called in time there might have been a reasonable chance of saving this child's eye. Neglect and ignorance probably were responsible for this boy going through life in darkness.

A Girl Who Has Found Her Job

A Cleveland girl—a typical, modern girl, who does not even wear specks—has decided that her job is darning socks for wifeless men.

The young darning just stumbled into her vocation in a $25 race with other members of a club to which she belonged.

The girl who could make the most money in the least time was to have the prize and Miss Dickey won it at the rate of a penny a hole and two cents a rip.

Having to earn her living, Miss Dickey decided that darning was more congenial and easier than clerking, and in the summer she could do her work in the parks, and have the benefit of the fresh air and sunshine.

She has decided to confine her efforts to men's socks and stabs woman's natural tendency to go bargain hunting by saying that it doesn't pay to darn for women. "They want too much for their money, and let the holes go until they're as big as my fist."

If the young darning stamps women as penurious, she evidently doesn't accredit generosity as her reason for preferring to darn for men. Far from it—she attributes to their "fussiness" the fact that they won't wear holes bigger than a pin hole'.

Therefore this young girl has chosen as her profession darning socks for wifeless men, and as there will probably always be bachelors with socks to darn, it's probable that she'll find her job a paying one.

As philosophers are always telling us, there surely is a job for every one; the great thing being to find the job that suits you.

The young Cleveland girl has had the sense to grasp a job within her ability and reach instead of going after the far off visionary position, probably way beyond her attainment.

Other Fields of Promise

The achievement of the Panama canal, now practically finished, has been compared to a prolonged college course for the American nation.

The vastness of the project has called forth a national pride, has aroused a new spirit, giving momentum to practical idealism and has proved that we, as a nation, are adequate to any task that we undertake.

Only those who have kept closely in touch with the work of the wonderful canal, kept in touch with it from those first days which opened apparently insurmountable difficulties, through the triumphs of that splendid conquering energy which over-rode those difficulties to successful completion, can fully comprehend the organization used in its accomplishment.

Now, with the canal finished, comes the pertinent question shall this great construction force of men and machines, equal to whatever task the nation demands, be disbanded or held in leash for other great accomplishments?

While it may be that the army of the construction force will not again be needed in such might or for such a project, there are other fields where such splendid organization of brains, brawn and steel could render magnificent service.

Among these fields so rich in possibilities to our country Alaska, with its great unlocked resources, comes first, and in her wake the Mississippi, offering a basis for a broad, deep water highway for commerce, reaching from the Gulf to the Great Lakes. Either of these fields would prove worthy of the Atlantic division of the construction force, in which the workmen are already turning to other channels, and everything points to its being disbanded.

Ford Plan Will Demonstrate Justice as Well as Economy and Success

By SAMUEL COMPERS, President of the American Federation of Labor

THE attitude of Henry Ford toward organized labor and his employees generally has been fairer than usually obtains in the automobile establishments of the United States. The new plan will demonstrate its JUSTICE AS WELL AS ITS ECONOMY AND SUCCESS. It will give an impetus to workers in the automobile industry to endeavor to get higher wages, better conditions and an eight hour workday.

In the meantime one of the great advantages to the Ford establishment will be to attract to it the best men the trade affords. I see no reason for Mr. Ford's plan proving an OBSTACLE TO OLD AGE PENSIONS, and it is certainly much preferable to the plan of the United States Steel corporation in making a part of its employees shareholders. The Ford plan of sharing profits and raising wages will TEND TO BENEFIT AND NOT DEMORALIZE either the automobile or other trades.

THE ORGANIZED LABOR MOVEMENT HAS NO CRITICISM TO MAKE, BUT WELCOMES THE PAYMENT OF THE HIGHEST POSSIBLE WAGES, THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A NORMAL WORKDAY AND THE INTRODUCTION OF THE BEST POSSIBLE CONDITIONS FOR THE WORKING PEOPLE. IT IS A HISTORICAL FACT THAT THE BEST PAID AND CONDITIONED WORKERS ARE THOSE WHO ARE BEST ORGANIZED, AND IT IS THEY WHO BEAR THE BURDEN IN MAKING THE EFFORT TO ORGANIZE THE POORLY PAID AND POORLY CONDITIONED WORKERS. THAT WORK WILL GO ON WITH GREATER ENERGY AND PERSISTENCE THAN EVER BEFORE.

WANTED.
Wanted—An eye to perceive the end
Whither the paths of the vicious

An eye with which all who walk

Might see it all when their steps

Wanted—A view, for the ones who

Or the woes and wrongs of the weeping half,
That half of the world whose breath

And whose only hope is to quickly

Wanted—A sense of the awful wrong
That is done the weak by the thoughtless strong;
A view of the lives crushed out in

To make for the strong a holiday.

Wanted—A moment's glimpse at this
And the hopeful lives that have gone

But to all who of these gifts partake,
Give also hearts that cannot break,

WOMEN WILL HAVE CHANCE

Call Issued For a Democratic House Caucus.

WOMEN WILL GET A HEARING

Caucus Will Take Action On a Resolution Providing For the Creation of a Committee On Equal Suffrage. Issuance of Call Regarded by the Women as the Most Important Achievement of the Past Year.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Women who marched on the White House to draw from the president his attitude toward woman suffrage, heard only a reiteration by Mr. Wilson of his statement that he could not speak his views upon a public question on which the Democratic party has not committed itself.

While this appeal was being turned down, however, the suffragists were having better luck at the Capitol. Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, chairman of the Democratic house caucus, issued a call for a caucus to act upon a resolution to create a committee on woman suffrage. The caucus will be held Wednesday night, and was demanded by a petition to which the names of 51 members of the house were attached.

The suffragists regard the issuance of the caucus call as the most important achievement of the past year as far as congress is concerned. Their supporters in the house are determined that a full and free discussion of the full merits of the suffrage cause shall be had at the caucus.

Recently the house committee on rules failed by a tie vote to report in favor of the creation of the suffrage committee. Since then there have been threats by the suffragists to hold the Democratic party responsible, and through the calling of the conference it looks as if the party finally would be obliged to take a definite stand.

When the president told the women he could do nothing for them, the delegates were disappointed and a number did not shake hands with him.

The suffragists who called on the president are all working women, who declare they need the ballot to help them right the wrongs that have been inflicted on them. There were 300 in the delegation and they marched on the White House with a brass band and flying colors, to ask his support for a constitutional amendment enfranchising women.

HASTINGS MOUNTS WITNESS STAND

that he did $11,000 worth of bridge building in Muskingum county and $6,000 worth in Monroe county. He said he did not bid for contracts until he had obtained the opinion of Attorney General Hogan and Special Counsel Laylin that it was proper for him to put in bids.

RUSSIA FOR CRANE

Washington, Feb. 3.—The understanding in Washington is that the ambassadorship to Russia, which was left vacant by the resignation of Henry M. Pindel of Peoria, Ill., will be offered to Charles R. Crane of Chicago. Mr. Crane was tendered the mission twice in the earlier months of President Wilson's administration, but found it inadvisable to accept because of business activities.

Mr. Pindel in his letter of resignation says that he could not in delicacy accept the appointment in view of the embarrassing statements that had been made in regard to it. Mr. Pindel made it known that he regarded the confirmation of his nomination by the senate as a complete vindication of himself in the face of what he termed "gross misrepresentations."

An absolute "sure cure" for the cigarette disease is to simply wash out the victim's throat and mouth with a solution of silver nitrate. School boards of Cincinnati, Chillicothe and many other cities testify to the efficiency of the harmless cure as do also the juvenile court physicians who have experimented on boys and men strongly addicted to the habit. The cure is just as sure and advantageous to the adult as to the youth, it is claimed.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING HELD

Forty-eight New Members Are Added To Fish and Game Association, Making Total Membership 102—Meeting Last Night Filled With Interest—Large Meeting Is Planned For Near Future.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association was held in Memorial Hall building Monday night with a goodly number of the members present.

Forty-eight new membership cards were received, bringing the total membership up to 102 and by the next meeting this number is expected to have increased to 125 or 150, as the property owners throughout the county are becoming aware of the benefits to be derived from such an organization.

More than two-thirds of the new members are farmers who are desirous of obtaining the protection that the Association extends to the lands of all members.

At the session Monday night an amendment was adopted providing that no money be expended for anything but actual expenses incident to conducting the affairs of the Association, and for the securing of fish and game to restock the county.

It was announced at the meeting that in the near future the officers of the association will give an oyster supper to the entire membership and this liberal offer on the part of the officers is expected to bring the entire membership together for business and a social hour. At that time State Fish and Game Commissioner, John C. Speaks, is expected to address the association.

QUO VADIS AT THE PALACE

"Quo Vadis", George Kleine's superb photo drama spectacle that aroused so much enthusiasm in New York and crowding the Astor theater duplicated its success in Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston, will be presented for the first time in Washington C. H. on Thursday and Friday, February 5th and 6th with matinees each day.

From every viewpoint this is the most marvelous achievement in the photo drama realm and richly deserves its success. It is dramatic, spectacular and thrilling at the same time. The multitude of incidents contained in Henry Sienkiewicz's world famed story from which the pictures were made have been more than faithfully reproduced and all the romantic and historic values retained. For lovers of romance the beautiful story of the Roman youth Vinitius' great love for the sweet young Christian girl, Lydia, is graphically visualized as well as the companion story of Petronius' affection for his slave "Eunice". To admirers of history and searchers for thrills nothing can be more satisfying than these vivid pictures of the infamous Nero and his court, with its horrible though spectacularly gorgeous feasts and orgies; and they can find even more sensation in the reproduction of the tyrants' pleasures in the arena; the chariot races, gladiator combats and the rending of the faithful band of Christian martyrs by the ferocious lions, and in that crowning spectacle illustrating his infamous and imbecilic vanity, the burning of Rome. Those who profit by and enjoy the lessons taught in the story take pleasure in the illustrated history of the birth of Christianity in Rome, the trials and experiences of the Christians, the teachings of Peter and Paul and the visitation of the Saviour to Peter on the Appian Way as he is about to desert Rome. In its entirety it is the most satisfying entertainment yet conceived in the broad field of motion photography.

The photo drama is divided into three acts with an intermission of eight minutes between each and consumes two hours and fifteen minutes at each performance.

DAYTON YOUTH IN COURT HOUSE

Marie Dwyer, aged 17, son of Geo. Dwyer, an employee in one of the city departments at Dayton, was found asleep on a couch in the private office of the Common Pleas Judge at the court house, Thursday morning.

He was discovered by employees at the court house, and it required the united efforts of several officials to awaken the sleeping boy.

When he was finally pulled from dreamland, he gave his name and all details connected with his presence at the court house, stating that he had entered the place through the basement late at night and had taken temporary possession.

His parents at Dayton were notified, and said the youth had left home five days ago, and to lock him up until the father could come after him. He was accordingly given a berth in the county jail.

Young Dwyre is apparently well educated and of good family. He had no money upon his person when found.

After fixing his sentence, Judge Allen decided that he would give the man a chance to contribute toward the support of his family as well as pay the fine, and in accordance with that decision he gave Parker his choice of working as assistant janitor when he was not regularly employed elsewhere, until the fine is worked out, or going to the works. He chose the former.

own prison after ninety days, was read and placed on file.

Contractor Kinnear asked council to borrow money with which to pay the $1224.40 due him for paving alleys, and that he would pay the interest. He pointed out that the money had been due him since November 1st, but council had neglected to issue the necessary bonds.

Howell asked about the paving adjoining the Pavey property, as it was not clear where the cost had been assessed. A resolution, passed August

2, 1909, was read, and contained an agreement upon the part of Mary S.

Pavey to construct a walk along the property. Some argument then arose between the engineer and agent for the Paveys, and the statement was made by Jay Williams that Mrs.

Pavey had been unjustly assessed $66 and that part of the paving was not satisfactory. Sheets also stated that there was some dissatisfaction over the alley paving. H. H. Sanderson, representing the owner of the Millikan property on Fayette street, said a sewer connecting with the property, had been rendered useless by the paving. Engineer Jacobs stated that the paving was done according to contract. Contractor Kinnear stated that he had been careful about sewers, and that opposite the Millikan property the alley was so wet

when they were paving it that considerable difficulty was experienced.

The matter wound up by no definite action being taken regarding the paving trouble.

Upon motion by Rowe a resolution providing for the borrowing of $1284.46 for 60 days, to pay the contractor, was read and passed under suspension.

Walter Ellis directed council's attention to the deplorable condition of Grace street—the first street east of North, and leading to the B. & O.

stock yards. He said it was almost impassable, and that persons hauling hogs to the stock yards had run their wagons upon the sidewalks, and even into the yard fences in some places, because of the muddy condition of the street. He stated that it was the desire of the citizens in that neighborhood to have the street, and also

Pearl street opened across the railroad. He called attention to former action toward opening Pearl street, and how the B. & O. officials had fenced off Pearl street and refused to lay a crossing.

Veall moved that Solicitor Gregg take the steps necessary to open both streets across the railroad.

LURE OF CITIES MENACES FRANCE

Government Considering Foreign Labor Tax.

PROBLEM GROWS SERIOUS

In Fifty Years Number of Agricultural Laborers Has Decreased 40 Per Cent. Peasants and Country People Flock to Cities—Small Pay Causes Exodus From Farms.

Washington.—The United States is not the only land where "back to the farm" is a cry earnestly raised in the hope of checking the abandonment of country places by young people for the excitements and quicker returns of city life. France has the problem to face this year in serious fashion, and French legislators are discussing whether or not it would be opportune at this time to impose a special fiscal tax on all foreign workmen who come to France in search of work, or, rather, to impose the tax on their employers, the idea being to force a chance for the native farm laborer, thereby preventing him from going to the city.

William H. Hunt, United States consul writing from St. Etienne, says that so far no agreement on such foreign labor tax has been reached, as the question is considered in France extremely delicate and complex.

"From a national viewpoint," says Mr. Hunt, "it is desirable that work in France should be performed by French workmen alone, in order to push home industries and preserve trade secrets, yet such a measure would not be practical, for French workmen in other countries would be subjected to a similar tax. It is also said that foreign workmen are content with a smaller wage than Frenchmen.

For some the moderate pretensions are explained by the simple life these men are accustomed to lead, for others by the fact that they may have some private means.

One may readily understand that the head of an industry would preferably employ foreigners if they may be had at lower wages, but the natural effect of depressing the wages of the home workmen must not be overlooked, particularly in agriculture, where there is the greatest dearth of French laborers. According to an inquiry made by the minister of agriculture, the following statistics were obtained:

"At present 2,320,000 persons are employed in agricultural pursuits in the whole of France, while in 1882 their number was a little over 3,000,000; in 1882, 3,500,000, and in 1882, 4,000,000. Thus in half a century agricultural labor has diminished 40 per cent, and by reason of the steady increase of

"This state of things has been brought about by the peasants and country people forsaking their farms and flocking to the larger cities. The inquiries of the minister of agriculture show that the same motives everywhere induce the peasants to leave the soil. A great number cannot make a sufficient income out of the produce of their day's work on their farms. Irregular work, long periods of enforced idleness, poverty resulting from bad harvests, frequent recurrence of certain calamities—hail, blight, mildew, etc.—induce them to abandon the soil and look elsewhere for better pay."

"Many of the landowners sell their property in order to work on larger and more important estates, others to obtain a right to free medical aid or to benefit by the old age pension fund or in order to have less taxes to pay."

A Girl and Her Choice.

"Don't take that job that's offered you, my girl. Take a good man's love instead."

"What does the job pay?"

"Sixty dollars, I think."

"What does the good man make?"

"Forty dollars."

"I'll take the job."—Baltimore Amer-

In Social Circles

The M. H. G. class gave a hand-banquet Monday night in the basement dining room of the Presbyterian church in honor of two of their members, Mrs. Fred Sprenger and Miss Fannie Hyer, who are compelled temporarily to leave the class, to its great regret.

Mrs. Sprenger goes to Mason City, Ill., where her husband will assume the management of the new mitten factory now being erected by the Inskip Manufacturing Co., of this city, and Miss Hyer to Huntington, W. Va., where she has accepted a position in a millinery shop.

The dining room presented a most attractive scene brightly lighted and the tables set in the shape of an "H" in compliment to Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins, teacher of the class. In the center scarlet carnations and greenery nodded from a cut glass vase and were reflected in a table mirror, garlanded with green. The place cards were cunning little valentines.

Forty young women were seated and served with a delicious four-course banquet. The supper was all the more appreciated when it was learned the members of the Social committee, assisted by the new officers, prepared and served the entire menu.

The committee includes Miss Carrie Kingsbury, chairman; Mrs. Will Klever and Miss Chloe Bonecutter the new officers; Miss Inez Rodgers, president; Mrs. Fred Woollard, secretary; Mrs. Jacob Elliott, treasurer.

The supper hour was most delightful, with good wishes galore extended to Mrs. Sprenger and Miss Hyer, who responded cordially.

After the last course a business session was held at the table and the new officers installed. Mrs. Hopkins made a little speech of encouragement and suggestion to the new officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Story and little daughter, Mary Ann, went to Circleville Tuesday for a short visit with Mrs. Story's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Howard.

Miss Sadie Glenn, who has been spending the past year with her sister, Mrs. R. R. Kibler, left Tuesday morning for Kingsburg, Cal., to visit another sister.

Mrs. John Waddell and Mrs. Neil Weddell of Greenfield, spent Monday in this city.

Mrs. J. T. Tuttle is in Columbus today on business.

Mr. V. J. Dahl is a visitor at Maple Grove Springs today.

Miss Etta Junk, of Austin, is the guest of Miss Myrtle McCoy.

Mrs. M. F. Stuckey and daughter, Mrs. Glenn Rodgers went to Columbus Tuesday to visit the former's daughter, Mrs. Russell Evick.

Mrs. J. C. Greiner and daughter, Mrs. R. M. Hughey, will spend the next two days in Cincinnati to see "Joseph and His Brethren", and other attractions.

LOVING CUP IS ON EXHIBITION HERE

Exhibited in the Washington Savings Bank and Trust Co. is the splendid silver loving cup won by Fayette county at the State Corn show.

In 1908 the Ohio Farmer offered this cup to the county that would score the most points in the state corn show. In the January show of 1914 Fayette county scored 9 points out of a possible 15, and 27 other counties made the remaining six points.

This puts Fayette county way in the van guard of the Buckeye state.

The Washington Savings Bank has taken the greatest interest in Fayette agricultural progress, and has been active in promoting a spirit of rivalry in its agricultural contests.

It is the only bank in the county that paid the entire expense of a county corn contest trip to Washington, D. C. and Mt. Vernon during the past season, and took special interest in securing this cup for exhibition.

WINNING SQUAD HONORED BY SUPPER

The I. O. O. F. hall was the scene of a jolly gathering Monday evening, when the Imperial Degree Staff gave an oyster supper, in honor of the winning squad in the recent competitive drill.

Also as invited guests were the judges of the drill, Col. B. H. Millikan, Capt. O. E. Hardway, Capt. Howard C. Allen, and the trustees of the subordinate and the encampment branches, Messrs. Pyley, Bachert, Bonham, Hyer, McLean, Hollahan.

The supper was a most appetizing one, with all accessories that go with oysters, and the occasion one of great fraternal pleasure.

Excellent addresses were delivered by Hon. A. R. Creamer and Rev. A. W. West.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED AFTER TWO YEARS

No small surprise was aroused in Washington circles, when, after two years the marriage of Miss Bess Blue was announced by cards going out Monday evening. The cards read:

Mrs. Laura O'Farrell announces the marriage of her daughter, Ess Blue, to Mr. Edgar Jay Roose, on Saturday, February 3rd, 1912, Washington C. H., Ohio.

The bride is widely known as traveling traffic chief of the Bell Telephone company, and is a bright young woman of unusual business ability and pleasing personality.

Mr. Roose is plant chief of the Bell Telephone Co., at Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Roose have not decided upon their future plans. Mrs. Roose is greatly interested in her present work and will probably continue in it for the present.

The announcement is calling forth the best wishes of many friends in this city.

DEATHS

DAWSON.

Jacob Dawson, aged 71 years, died Monday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jennie Bateman in Columbus, Ohio. The remains will be brought to Bloomingburg Wednesday morning at 7:45 and taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Purcell, where funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock. Interment will be made in Bloomingburg cemetery.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

CONFessions NOT CONCLUSIVE.

Under the American system of criminal procedure, confession of murder is not accepted as proof of guilt, and it must be confirmed by other and better evidence before the death penalty can be inflicted.

The wisdom of this is well illustrated by the doubts which have been thrown on the confession of young Carl, in New Jersey.

That Carl did admit the attempt to kill and serious wounding of Mr. Ellis is undenied, but investigation of his movements on the day of the shooting has created, if not quite a certainty, at least a high probability, that when the shooting occurred he was many miles away.

Carl has not repudiated his confession. His present contention and that of his defenders is that he was trapped by a private detective into boasting of a crime he had never committed, and that he did this to gain standing with one whom he thought to himself a criminal.

This is not an incredible explanation, for boys of a certain well-known type—the type to which Carl seemingly belongs—do not rarely vaunt their wickedness when with those by whom wickedness is for one reason or another considered a merit.

This is an exact reversal of ancient practice, for once the law would not inflict capital punishment until guilt had been admitted. This compunction however, probably never saved a life firmly believed to be forfeited, for by torture sufficiently ingenious and prolonged prisoners could be and were made to say anything their judges desired.—Athens Messenger.

COFFEE IN POISON BOTTLE.

Wife's Mistake Caused Neighbor a Five Mile Run.

Passaic, N. J.—When Mrs. Frederick Godolen of Lodi prepared coffee for her husband's lunch she thought she had placed it in the bottle her husband usually carried it in. Instead, she had poured it into a half filled bottle of poison. She did not discover the mistake until an hour after her husband had left home. He is employed at the National Silk Dyeing company plant at Dundee Lake, five miles away. Mrs. Godolen ran to the home of Stanley Ferrer, a neighbor, and asked that he run to the mill and save her husband's life. Ferrer ran all the five miles to the mill, where he found Godolen and told the story.

The coffee bottle was immediately destroyed. Godolen had been accustomed to take a sip of coffee early in the morning, but he failed to do so this time.

Mrs. Godolen said there was enough poison in the coffee bottle to kill ten people.

hospital, where she was held a prisoner and was permitted to see no visitors.

She left the train at the outskirts of Trinidad and later appeared at a local hotel. She was arrested by a detail of state troops, hurried out of the hotel, placed in an automobile and whirled through the streets, with a cavalry escort galloping at full speed in front and behind the machine.

Several hundred coal mine strikers lined the streets and cheered wildly, while "Mother" Jones waved her hand in response.

Not Bad.

Hanging on the top of one of the stalls at a church bazaar recently was a sign which ran: "Luncheons, 1 to 3 p.m., 1s. 6d."

A country farmer and his wife were passing along, admiring the various stalls and their contents, when he espied the above sign and was seen to stop short and was heard to remark to his wife:

"Well I'll jus' hev our dinners here, Jen-nie. Twa 'oors' steady eatin's no bad fur wan an' six!"—London Home Notes.

Cox Would Shorten Judicial Procedure.

MEASURE INSTANTLY LAUNCHED

Governor Authorized in a House Bill to Appoint Five Citizens For Municipal Tax Survey—Offerings to Clear Up Ambiguities in Torrens and Other Acts—Features of Cox's Message.

Columbus, O., Feb. 3.—Governor Cox postponed transmitting recommendation for the submission to vote of a resolution to repeal the constitutional provision that every county have a resident judge of the common pleas court. But in his message to the legislature he asked for a commission to investigate how to reform and shorten judicial procedure, and Senator Holden of Warren introduced a bill to create the commission, on which the governor may appoint from six to ten persons. The governor asked also that one of the Hamilton county courts be made a court of domestic relations to try divorce cases.

In addition to recommendations that had been made known beforehand, including a commission to survey the need of surrendering a larger portion of the state tax levy to municipalities, the governor asked that the state waive its claim to $42,000 interest upon state funds deposited in the defunct Columbus Savings and Trust company, in order not to cause the depositors greater loss.

To provide for the municipal tax survey, Representative Bourne of Seneca introduced a bill authorizing the governor to appoint five citizens for whose expenses $1,000 is appropriated. Carrying out the governor's message, Representative Kilpatrick presented a bill to clear up the perplexity whether members of the state tax commission have terms of three years, as first provided, or of six years, as provided by the amended act which, however, failed to repeal the three-term provision. According to the bill, Commissioner Pabst can be reappointed for three years, or until 1917, and his successors and the successors to the other commissioners are to serve six years.

To Correct Errors.

To clear up another ambiguity, pointed out by the governor, Representative Brown of Ashland put in a bill providing that the salary of the dean of the college of agriculture, Ohio State university, as a member of the state agricultural commission, be paid by the university.

Representative Reid, author of the Torrens land registry law, introduced a bill correcting minor errors in that act as recommended by the governor. New house bills not covered by this message were by Mr. Cameron of Deffance, to provide for teaching in the public schools methods of prevention of the spread of dangerous diseases, and by Mr. Welsh of Ottawa to regulate carp fishing.

With addition of provisions for appointment of witnesses at the polls in referendum elections to represent interested organizations, the initiative and referendum safeguard bill was reported to the house calendar.

Representative Smith of Morgan, in order to acquaint school men quickly with the provisions of the new school legislation, offered a resolution to have State Superintendent of Instruction Miller print 35,000 copies of the school laws of this session.

The Republicans interposed no obstacle to the speeding up process for the final week. They caucused, but

BISHOP BRENT TO CONTINUE WORK

Devotes Life to Aiding the Filipinos In Every Way.

FOR BETTER EDUCATION.

Churchman Has Civilized Many Tribes. Some Formerly Lived In Tree Tops, and Now They Own Comfortable Houses—He Hopes to Eliminate the Chronic Ailments as Malaria, Etc.

New York.—A national committee has been formed to help the work of Bishop Charles H. Brent among the savages in the Philippines. Bishop Brent, who attended the Ecumenical convention, returned to the Philippine Islands to continue his work among the Moro tribes. He is a great believer in the possibilities for Christian work among these little brown people, who subsist on camotes and corn, wear no garments and make their homes in tree tops.

His friends in this country have just organized a national committee for upbuilding the wards of the nation. This is the first time that such a committee has been formed in this country.

It was caused by the attempt of Judge Edward F. O'Dwyer, the new president, and his friends, to demand Mr. Murphy's retirement from the party leadership and to commit the club to Democratic reorganization in the city and state. The Judge made a speech denouncing Mr. Murphy.

Thomas F. Smith, secretary of Tammany Hall and chief clerk of the city court of which Mr. O'Dwyer is chief judge, defended the leader of Tammany Hall.

Judge O'Dwyer offered a resolution calling for Mr. Murphy's "immediate retirement from all participation in party affairs." Mr. Smith wanted it laid on the table. The Judge would not permit it. He called for an aye and no vote on the resolution. Mr. Smith demanded a rising vote, but President O'Dwyer, saying that the motion was carried, adjourned the meeting.

The pro-Murphy crowd followed the Judge to the street, yelling and jeering. Smith accused O'Dwyer of running away. Finally the Murphy men went back into the assembly room and had a rump meeting.

and subject to change when the bill comes up for final passage, members of the administration are concerned over the prominence given to the exclusion question at this juncture in the diplomatic negotiations now in progress between Japan and the United States. It was expressed that if the house should remain firm on the amendment the result might be a further irritation in Japan and new outbreaks of the anti-American feeling in the empire.

The amendment adopted in no way will affect the actual status of Japanese immigration to this country.
The immigration of Japanese laborers into the United States is prevented now through an agreement with Japan by which the emperor agrees to withhold passports from Japanese subjects of this class. The California members who have been fighting for Asian exclusion regard the adoption of the amendment as an initial step in the direction of their desires.

The house's action was chiefly important in that it reflects a strong sentiment in the lower branch of congress favorable to Japanese exclusion. Every effort will be made to reverse the vote when the consideration of the immigration bill is resumed. Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin, author of the amendment, declared that the proposal would not affect the present Japanese immigration situation, as in his opinion the amendment was worded in such a way that it could not give offense to Japan even if it became a law. The California members, on the other hand, contended that the amendment would prove an effective agency against Japanese immigration.

GIRL'S SIGHT SAVED BY PROMPT ACTION

Teacher Reports Case to Ohio Commission for Blind.

The necessity for prompt action to save children from blindness is shown in this case, which was discovered accidentally in southeastern Ohio. The story is well worth reading, and shows in a way the wonderful work that is being done by the Ohio Commission for the Blind to save the eyesight of children.

A school teacher of Toledo was visiting in the section of the state where this little tot lived. Her attention was called to the girl, Sadie W., and she called to see the child.

When she went to the home, far back in the hills, she found in the humble cottage the little girl burying her face in a pillow. Sadie could not stand the sunlight. The bright light caused her to suffer intense pain, and the big tears rolled down her rosy cheeks when she would start to play with the other children. She would run to a pillow, bury her little head in it and cry with pain. This school teacher, who had heard of the Ohio Commission for the Blind, reported the case at once to the headquarters in Columbus.

One of the special field nurses was sent to the home, and with the consent of the parents was permitted to bring Sadie to Columbus, where she was given the best attention that could be secured. The pictures accompanying this tell the story better than words. One shows Sadie crying with pain, her head buried in a toy cat, the other shows her after she had been under treatment a short time. It took five months of careful and constant attention, but baby Sadie is back home again now with normal vision in one eye. It was the opinion of the specialist in consultation that both eyes might have been saved if the right treatment had been given in time. Sadie was a favorite in the Columbus hospital, and now leads her little playmates in

RECEIVER NAMED FOR DRUGGIST

Through appointment by the United States District Court, Attorney Harry D. Smith took charge Saturday of affairs of the Model Drug Store, against the proprietor of which, Roy Gable, an involuntary petitioner in bankruptcy was filed Thursday. Mr. Smith's appointment by the Federal courts, supersedes that of John C. Conwell as assignee, made by the local probate court several days ago. Mr. Smith takes full charge of the property, with authority to collect and receive money due the business. He will be in charge until Mr. Gable has been adjudicated bankrupt, and a trustee in bankruptcy appointed at a meeting of the creditors. He furnished $5,000 bond.—Xenia Gazette.

Noticing an ad. by a new implement firm of the Original Scotch Clipper breaking plow, I write you this to give you a little history of the Scotch Clipper: Years ago, with the first make of plows this county and other counties where the soil was similar, they had a great deal of trouble in the loose black soil with the plow shedding the soil. The Moline Plow Co. of Moline, Ill., first learned that it required two essential points to do this. First, the shape of the moleboard and second the material in the moleboard and share.

By experience they found that Acme soft center steel put in the mole-board and share on the plow which they named Scotch Clipper, would shed the soil in any land in Fayette county, consequently their plow gained a good reputation.

Since then other manufacturers have tried to get in on their trade

by naming their plows Scotch Clipper. Remember, if you want the Original Scotch Clipper, it must be manufactured by the Moline Plow Co., Moline, Ill. I have handled this plow for the last 20 years, keep them in stock, and supplies for them, buying 100 shares at a time, thereby getting the best price, furnish you a new shares for $2.50, when other makes want you to wait a few days and pay express from factory. Do not forget that the Original Scotch Clipper is made of Acme Soft Center Steel; get the one made by Moline Plow Co., Moline, Ill., and sold by Chas. F. Bonham, West Court St., Washington C. H., Ohio.

ANOTHER SURPRISE SPRUNG

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., February 3.—Another new development was thrown today into the freight rate case before the Interstate Commerce Commission in which the 52 eastern railroads are seeking to advance their charges five per cent, when Commissioner Harlan announced that the commission intended to hold supplementary hearings on the question and fix reasonable charges for free service railroad systems had performed for large industrial plants.

These recent decisions in the industrial railroad case indicated that such free service to so-called trusts, not only cost the railroad systems about fifteen million dollars, but discriminated against smaller industries.

DEMANDS MADE BY MINE WORKERS

By Associated Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., February 3.—flat increase of 5 cents a ton on a mine run basis, a ten per cent increase on dead work, yardage and day labor, and a half-holiday on Saturdays, were the principal recommendations of the scale committee, submitting to the convention of the United Mine Workers of America today.

The report is the basis of work of the joint conference of miners and operators of the central competitive district. President John P. White of the organization spoke in favor of the 5 cent advance. He said the amendment was reasonable and believed that it would be granted by the operators.

The recommendations of the scale committee were adopted without change.

$62,000 FINE IS AFFIRMED

By Associated Press.

Cincinnati, Ohio, February 3.—A decision assessing fines totaling $62,000 on charges of giving and taking rebates was affirmed in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals here today. The case was appealed to the court here by the Hocking Valley R. R. and the Sunday Creek Coal Company. The defendants, who were charged in the indictments of the U. S. District court of Cleveland with violation of the Interstate Commerce laws and the Elkin act, were fined $62,000. The Hocking Valley company is fined $42,000 and the coal company $20,000.

FORGERS MAY BE DRIVEN FROM TOWN

John Curtis and Leonard Wilson, the two colored youths who were lodged in jail Sunday morning for forging checks, may be released upon their own recognizance with instructions to report for trial at some future date.

The pair confessed that they thought the crime was punishable by jail sentence, and that they committed the offense with the hope of having shelter and food for a time at least. They were terrified when they learned that the offense is punishable with a penitentiary sentence.

JOINT SESSION IS HELD TODAY

Supt. Geo. Gossard Again Employed For Term of Two Years as Superintendent of the Washington Cemetery at $900 Per Year—Committee Appointed to Make Inspection.

At the joint session of the City Council and Union Township Trustees, held at the council rooms Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, Supt. of the Washington Cemetery, George Gossard, was again employed as superintendent of the cemetery for a period of two years, with a salary of $900.

The action was taken by the adoption of a resolution upon which all voted yes with the exception of M. Tracey and P. Tracey.

Another resolution was passed whereby the salary of Mrs. Gossard was fixed at $200 per year, for services rendered. This allowance was not made last year.

A committee consisting of Councilman Rowe and Sheets and Trustee Williams, was appointed to make a monthly inspection of the affairs of the office.

Little argument was made during the session, and nearly all members of both bodies were present.

APPEAL MADE TO ENJOIN STRIKERS

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, February 3.—An injunction restraining the American Flint Glass Workers' Union from interfering with the operation of its plant in this city by non-union men was asked for in the U. S. District court here today by the Federal Glass company.

A strike has been in progress at the plant since July 17, 1913. Federal Judge Sater issued subpoenas for John Gilloof of Grafton, W. Va., and twenty local men to give testimony in connection with the hearing, upon the application for an injunction. The Flint Glass Workers' Union is charged with "abusing, vilifying and intimidating non-union men."

YALE RECEIVES LARGE BEQUEST

By Associated Press.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 3.—The bequest of $500,000 to Yale by Lord Strathcona, came as a complete surprise to university authorities, according to a statement by the college secretary today. "We have had no information bearing upon this gift," said the statement. "Its use depends entirely upon the provisions of the will."

WOMEN SLOW TO TAKE HOLD

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Ill., February 2.—Newly enfranchised women were generally slow in registering for the primary election which is to mark their advent in general political circles in this city. In some of the strictly residential wards few women visited the voting places in the early hours.

"Delayed by house-hold duties" was the explanation given by the women clerks and judges of election. One woman found at the wash tub by an automobile scouting party said: "Sure I'll go and register now—if you will just finish the wash."

CAHILL BILL DEFEATED

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, February 3.—Efforts of Representative Nungesser, of Crawford county, to amend the Cahill bill so that it would provide only for the teaching of agriculture in all of the villages and rural schools of the state, was defeated in the lower House today.

The bill was passed, changed only with an amendment which requires agriculture commissioners to possess the same qualifications as county and district superintendents. As amended, the bill must go back to the senate for concurrence. The bill introduced by Representative Dickson of Washington county, authorizing the state armory board to accept a gift of land in Marietta to be used as a site for an armory building to be erected also was passed. This legislation was recommended in the message Governor Cox sent to the legislature yesterday.

Another resolution was passed whereby the salary of Mrs. Gossard was fixed at $200 per year, for services rendered. This allowance was not made last year.

A committee consisting of Councilman Rowe and Sheets and Trustee Williams, was appointed to make a monthly inspection of the affairs of the office.

Little argument was made during the session, and nearly all members of both bodies were present.

RECEIVES MONEY FOR DEFACED BILLS

The local authorities have received word from the Cincinnati branch of the United States Secret Service Bureau, authorizing them to pay to Mr. F. O. Cline the sum of $2 for bills turned over to the Federal authorities some three months ago when William Cramblet was operating here by raising one dollar bills to five dollars by pasting the number five over the one.

The bills were turned over to Mr. Cline by Elmer McCune and R. W. Howland, who had received the defaced bills from Cramblet.

A photograph of Cramblet, together with Bertillion measurements, was enclosed in the communication.

Cramblet is now serving a five-months sentence in the Ross county jail for counterfeiting, and will be released about April 10th.

YOUNG WIFE CALLED BY DEATH

A sad death occurred Monday evening at 7:15, when Leila Campbell, wife of Mr. John Campbell, a young wife of only twenty-two, passed quietly away, after a brief illness, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Lienetta Allen, on Clinton avenue.

Mrs. Campbell had many warm friends in this community, who will learn of her death with personal sorrow and great sympathy for the bereaved husband and little two-year-old child; also for the mother and brothers, Homer and Otis Allen.

The funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, at the residence, and burial in the Bloomingburg cemetery.

COMPLAINT MADE AGAINST CYCLISTS

Much complaint has arisen over the almost incessant use of certain sidewalks by youthful cyclists.

One of the most frequented walks is that on North street, where boys and girls have been using their bicycles upon the sidewalks to the inconvenience and annoyance of pedestrians.

At one time Tuesday four bicycles were in view upon the sidewalks of North street. The attention of the police has been called to the misuse of the sidewalks and the practice will be stopped at once, it is claimed.

CALLED TO KENTUCKY BY DEATH OF BROTHER

Mrs. W. B. Woodward was called to Lexington, Ky., Tuesday morning by the sudden death of her brother, Mr. Ernest Neville Forsythe, a well-known lumber dealer of Lexington.

Mrs. Woodward is the only one of the family able to attend the funeral, a sister being in the Philippine Islands and a brother in California.

Mrs. Woodward has the sympathy of many friends in the shock of her bereavement.

PARENTS DO NOT REALIZE DANGER

Neglect Nearly Causes Child to Spend Sightless Life.

One of the visiting eye nurses sent out by the Ohio Commission for the Blind found this bright little girl in a home near Cleveland, and through her work and the aid of the commission restored the child's vision.

On the chair sits Mary with her face downward. The light hurts her eyes. She was threatened with blindness from corneal ulcers, and unless prompt treatment is given her the better part of her vision will be gone forever.

Cheerful in the extreme, Mary complained very little, but was readily induced to accept the treatment of the visiting nurse. The parents, who failed to realize the danger, were not able financially to employ an expert.

and Mary was gradually going blind, the parents not realizing the danger of the trouble.

When the nurse found Mary, immediate attention was given her. Home treatment was begun, and a specialist was called in to aid. Within a few weeks, as the picture here-with shows, Mary's eyes were restored to normal, the pain was all gone and the danger eliminated.

This would have been a case of another person needlessly blind for life. Had not the Ohio Commission for the Blind given its aid to little Mary, she might have been compelled to go through life in darkness.

Tell How Ohio Blind Commission Locates Beneficiaries.

These two letters tell the story of co-operation of friendly neighbors to help save babies and little children from blindness:

Dec. 2, 1913.

The State Commission for the Blind, Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen—Having seen accounts of the work you are doing for the blind children of Ohio, I thought I would call your attention to a case we have in this township.

We have a child here seven years of age who is going blind just from lack of a little attention. Her mother is a widow and in very poor circumstances and unable to do anything for the child. Hoping you can investigate this case, I am.

Very truly yours,

A. B.

Here is the answer that followed by return mail:

Columbus, O., Dec. 3, 1913.

A. B., —, Ohio:

My Dear Mr. T.—Thank you for calling our attention to the little child who you say is likely to lose her sight from neglect. We are sending a special eye nurse from Columbus to see you and be directed by you where she shall find this child. She will probably be in — with-in a few days.

Sincerely yours,

ALL AMENDMENTS ARE DEFEATED

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., February 3.—All Asiatic exclusion amendments to the immigration bill were defeated today in the House. The Hayes-Lenroot amendment was beaten by 103 to 54, after an overwhelming defeat of a similar resolution by Representative Raker.

All the Asiatic exclusion amendments were knocked out of the bill after a hot debate in which Democrats and Republicans joined in urging their defeat while the Republicans appealed to the Democrats to leave the Asiatic problem free from legislative entanglements, while President Wilson and Secretary Bryan were treating it diplomatically. The bill as it now stands is merely an immigration measure without restrictions as to race or color.

YEGGS CRACK SAFE OF JIMTOWN POSTOFFICE

Two Charges of Nitroglycerine Used and Men Escape With $250 to $300 Worth of Stamps.

FOUR SUSPECTS BOARD TRAIN HERE

Plucky Young Woman Fires Revolver at Yeggs Who Stand Guard While Companions Wreck Postoffice Safe—Little Hope of Capturing the Gang Who Operate in Neighboring Town.

A daring job of safe blowing took place at Jamestown at an early hour Tuesday morning, when four or five yeggs cracked the postoffice safe at that point and escaped with $250 to $300 worth of stamps and a small amount of money.

It is believed that the gang came to this city after completing the job at Jamestown, and boarded the early morning train for Columbus, as four men were seen lurking about near the station until the train was upon the point of leaving, when they slipped aboard to steal a ride, presumably to Columbus.

Two charges of nitroglycerine were used in blowing the safe, and the vault was completely wrecked. The first charge was fired at 1:20 and the second charge about 15 minutes later.

When the first charge was fired it awakened Miss Mildred Taylor and

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL LIFT EMBARGO ON ARMS

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., February 3.—President Wilson has decided to lift the embargo on exportation of arms to Mexico.

A proclamation under the authority of the congressional resolution of 1912, which will restore the status of the arms question to where both Huerta forces and Constitutionalists may export arms from the United States soon may be issued from the White House.

The decision leaves the situation of blind persons in almost precisely the same state it now is. Counties may pay their own pensions, but most have not made levy and have no funds for the purpose, and unless the legislature makes an appropriation at the special session, no blind pensions will be paid until 1915.

New York City, February 5.—Charles F. Murphy today defied his enemies in the National Democratic club who adopted resolutions last night calling for his retirement from all participation in party affairs.

SULZER MAKES WILD CHARGES

Albany, N. Y., February 3.—Former Governor Sulzer made his "maiden speech" in the state assembly today in support of a motion to bring before the House the Schapp resolution for a state-wide graft investigation.

"The whole official atmosphere is saturated with graft, graft, graft," shouted Mr. Sulzer. "No man knows more of graft than I, nor has been a greater victim. There is no politics in graft. All crooks look alike to the taxpayer. I have no hesitancy in saying—and I know—that over $6,000,000 of the taxpayer's money was stolen in highway construction in 1912."

Veal said immediate relief was necessary, and that himself and Sheets would probably be some older before the Sanitary Sewer system was constructed. The cost of a sewer was estimated at $160. The outlet now empties on the Pennsylvania railroad property. One house was reported to be about ready to fall over as a result of the water causing the foundation to crumble. Mr. Bailey, one of the property owners, said the water upon his property came from the street, and he was very anxious to have the city take care of the water. Rowe moved that a storm sewer be constructed. A resolution was then unearthened, providing for the construction of a sewer. Before it was passed Sheets offered an amendment to make it a storm sewer. The amendment was adopted.

Money Borrowed to Pay Contractor Kinnear for Alley Paving—No Action Taken on Notice to Furnish City Prison or the State Board of Health Communication—Penalty Provided for Cutting Into the Streets—Other Matters.

The regular monthly session of the city council Monday night was a long one, and a number of propositions were discussed and many acted upon.

All members were present, and the meeting opened promptly at 7:30. Some fifty citizens dropped up to watch the proceedings. A number of them were interested in sewer legislation expected to be enacted.

The committee on waste paper receptacles was given more time. Sheets reported on the Washington avenue sewer, and after some discussion, during which it was stated 410 feet of sewer would be necessary to furnish relief, Veal moved that the sewer be constructed. Sheets called attention to the fact that no sewer could be constructed without permission from the State Board of Health, and stated that it looked as if something must be done to afford relief. A letter from the State Board of Health, in which the council was urged to act upon the matter of a new system of sewers was read. No action was taken on the communication, but when Veal's motion was put it was voted down. Rowe then moved that the unsatisfactory sewer be connected with the main sewer until the sanitary sewer question is settled. All voted yes with the exception of M. Tracey.

The Ways and Means committee reported that the Commercial bank had agreed to take the alley bonds at par and accrued interest. The report was accepted.

A petition for the construction of a cinder walk on the west side of High street from Newberry to Circle avenue, was read and passed.

Mayor Coffey's report of fines and license for the month of January, was read and accepted. The report was itemized and showed a collection of $94.

A petition signed by a number of Elmwood citizens was read. It asked for relief from water which has been damaging their property. The matter was then taken up and for nearly three quarters of an hour it was discussed, but no satisfactory solution was offered until a motion was made, by Rowe that a storm sewer be constructed to furnish proper drain. A sanitary sewer was desired by some, but the orders of the State Board of Health were again bumped into.

Veal said immediate relief was necessary, and that himself and Sheets would probably be some older before the Sanitary Sewer system was constructed. The cost of a sewer was estimated at $160. The outlet now empties on the Pennsylvania railroad property. One house was reported to be about ready to fall over as a result of the water causing the foundation to crumble. TOTAL OF SEVEN HUNDRED DECISIONS DURING REVIVAL

Meetings Last Night Result in Additional Conversions in City and County—Christian Church Has Added 130 to Membership—Remarkable Meeting in Northern Fayette—Baptist Church to Continue Meetings Remainder of Week.

(By Hugh C. Weir.)

Seven hundred confessions and church additions is the record with which the closing week of the Simultaneous Campaign opened last night.

Of this number, there have been three hundred conversion in the city churches, the remaining four hundred being distributed through the county.

Six confessions last night brought the total results of the Christian church meetings to 130, the largest individual record of the campaign.

Last evening an enthusiastic union service of the Methodist and Baptist churches was held at Grace M. E. church, with Rev. A. H. West presiding. Mr. West delivered a powerful sermon, which made a deep impression, on the conditions which Christ has imposed for admission to the Kingdom of God.

"Except ye be as little children, ye cannot enter the Kingdom of God. This means that we must imbibe the innocence, the faith, and the love of the child of his father," said Mr. West.

It had been planned to close the services at the Baptist church, but such is the degree of interest manifested in the campaign that the meetings will continue at that church each evening of this week, conducted by Mr. West, who announces some practical, vital sermons.

The reports from the county indicate that the campaign is meeting with splendid results at all points. There have been 38 accessions to date at the Union Chapel, Yatesville, meetings under the leadership of Rev. T. L. Haas. The services at Jeffersonville are also drawing large crowds. Rev. Haas and Rev. Doty are preaching there in turn.

The special choir will be maintained at Grace church through the balance of the week. Rev. F. E. Ross will deliver a series of strong evangelistic sermons.

H. C. Bobbitt, who has done such excellent work at the Christian church, will continue in charge of the song services there during the week.

Special efforts are being put forth to make next Sunday a red letter day in the campaign, and the detailed program will be announced early in the week.

MILLIONS SPENT FOR LIFE PENSIONS

In announcing today the names of its employees who have been placed upon the Company's Roll of Honor, having reached the age of seventy years, the Pennsylvania Railroad makes public the fact that during the past thirteen years it has paid out in pensions the sum of $9,500,000.

During that time, 7,800 men have been placed on the Roll of Honor. Of that number 3,765 have died, and as of January 1, 1914 there were 4,037 employees still on the Roll.

Of the $9,500,000 paid out by the Pennsylvania Railroad System in pensions, $7,174,129 had been expended by the Lines East of Pittsburgh and $2,326,370 by the Lines West of Pittsburgh.

Among those retired on January 1 was Margaret Ferguson, an employee on the New York Division, who had served the Company 30 years and four months.

Twenty-seven women are now on the Roll of Honor of the company. Their average length of active service was 28 years and one month.

CAPT. BERRY IS TO STAND TRIAL

Washington, Feb. 3.—Captain Berry of the Merchants and Miners' steamship Nantucket, which rammed and sank the Old Dominion liner Monroe off the Virginia capes, with the loss of 45 lives, will have to stand trial. A committee appointed by Secretary of Commerce Redfield, after consideration of the report of Inspector Robert Tapley, held that Captain Berry was negligent. Captain Berry will be tried by the federal steam board at Philadelphia.

The committee decided not to give out the testimony taken by Inspector Tapley, as the witnesses will again be summoned to appear before the board at Philadelphia. Inspector Tapley will be instructed to file formal charges against Captain Berry.

The trial to be held will have a strong bearing on the $1,000,000 libel suit filed by the Old Dominion company against the Merchants and Miners' company for the sinking of the Monroe.

A Girl Who Has Found Her Job

A Cleveland girl—a typical, modern girl, who does not even wear specks—has decided that her job is darning socks for wifeless men.

The young darning just stumbled into her vocation in a $25 race with other members of a club to which she belonged. The girl who could make the most money in the least time was to have the prize and Miss Dickey won it at the rate of a penny a hole and two cents a rip.

Having to earn her living, Miss Dickey decided that darning was more congenial and easier than clerking, and in the summer she could do her work in the parks, and have the benefit of the fresh air and sunshine.

She has decided to confine her efforts to men's socks and stabs woman's natural tendency to go bargain hunting by saying that it doesn't pay to darn for women. "They want too much for their money, and let the holes go until they're as big as my fist."

If the young darning stamps women as penurious, she evidently doesn't accredit generosity as her reason for preferring to darn for men. Far from it—she attributes to their "fussiness" the fact that they won't wear holes bigger than a pin hole".

Therefore this young girl has chosen as her profession darning socks for wifeless men, and as there will probably always be bachelors with socks to darn, it's probable that she'll find her job a paying one.

As philosophers are always telling us, there surely is a job for every one; the great thing being to find the job that suits you.

The young Cleveland girl has had the sense to grasp a job within her ability and reach instead of going after the far off visionary position, probably way beyond her attainment.

Other Fields of Promise

The achievement of the Panama canal, now practically finished, has been compared to a prolonged college course for the American nation.

The vastness of the project has called forth a national pride, has aroused a new spirit, giving momentum to practical idealism and has proved that we, as a nation, are adequate to any task that we undertake.

Only those who have kept closely in touch with the work of the wonderful canal, kept in touch with it from those first days which opened apparently insurmountable difficulties, through the triumphs of that splendid conquering energy which over-rode those difficulties to successful completion, can fully comprehend the organization used in its accomplishment.

Now, with the canal finished, comes the pertinent question shall this great construction force of men and machines, equal to whatever task the nation demands, be disbanded or held in leash for other great accomplishments?

While it may be that the army of the construction force will not again be needed in such might or for such a project, there are other fields where such splendid organization of brains, brawn and steel could render magnificent service.

Among these fields so rich in possibilities to our country Alaska, with its great unlocked resources, comes first, and in her wake the Mississippi, offering a basis for a broad, deep water highway for commerce, reaching from the Gulf to the Great Lakes. Either of these fields would prove worthy of the Atlantic division of the construction force, in which the workmen are already turning to other channels, and everything points to its being disbanded.

Ford Plan Will Demonstrate Justice as Well as Economy and Success

By SAMUEL GOMPERS, President of the American Federation of Labor

By American Press Association.

THE attitude of Henry Ford toward organized labor and his employees generally has been fairer than usually obtains in the automobile establishments of the United States. The new plan will demonstrate its JUSTICE AS WELL AS ITS ECONOMY AND SUCCESS. It will give an impetus to workers in the automobile industry to endeavor to get higher wages, better conditions and an eight hour workday.

In the meantime one of the great advantages to the Ford establishment will be to attract to it the best men the trade affords. I see no reason for Mr. Ford's plan proving an OBSTACLE TO OLD AGE PENSIONS, and it is certainly much preferable to the plan of the United States Steel corporation in making a part of its employees shareholders. The Ford plan of sharing profits and raising wages will TEND TO BENEFIT AND NOT DEMORALIZE either the automobile or other trades.

THE ORGANIZED LABOR MOVEMENT HAS NO CRITICISM TO MAKE, BUT WELCOMES THE PAYMENT OF THE HIGHEST POSSIBLE WAGES, THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A NORMAL WORKDAY AND THE INTRODUCTION OF THE BEST POSSIBLE CONDITIONS FOR THE WORKING PEOPLE. IT IS A HISTORICAL FACT THAT THE BEST PAID AND CONDITIONED WORKERS ARE THOSE WHO ARE BEST ORGANIZED, AND IT IS THEY WHO BEAR THE BURDEN IN MAKING THE EFFORT TO ORGANIZE THE POORLY PAID AND POORLY CONDITIONED WORKERS. THAT WORK WILL GO ON WITH GREATER ENERGY AND PERSISTENCE THAN EVER BEFORE.

WOMEN WILL HAVE CHANCE

Call Issued For a Democratic House Caucus.

WOMEN WILL GET A HEARING

Caucus Will Take Action On a Resolution Providing For the Creation of a Committee On Equal Suffrage. Issuance of Call Regarded by the Women as the Most Important Achievement of the Past Year.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Women who marched on the White House to draw from the president his attitude toward woman suffrage, heard only a reiteration by Mr. Wilson of his statement that he could not speak his views upon a public question on which the Democratic party has not committed itself.

While this appeal was being turned down, however, the suffragists were having better luck at the Capitol. Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, chairman of the Democratic house caucus, issued a call for a caucus to act upon a resolution to create a committee on woman suffrage. The caucus will be held Wednesday night, and was demanded by a petition to which the names of 51 members of the house were attached.

The suffragists regard the issuance of the caucus call as the most important achievement of the past year as far as congress is concerned. Their supporters in the house are determined that a full and free discussion of the full merits of the suffrage cause shall be had at the caucus.

Recently the house committee on rules failed by a tie vote to report in favor of the creation of the suffrage committee. Since then there have been threats by the suffragists to hold the Democratic party responsible, and through the calling of the conference it looks as if the party finally would be obliged to take a definite stand.

When the president told the women he could do nothing for them, the delegates were disappointed and a number did not shake hands with him.

The suffragists who called on the president are all working women, who declare they need the ballot to help them right the wrongs that have been inflicted on them. There were 300 in the delegation and they marched on the White House with a brass band and flying colors, to ask his support for a constitutional amendment enfranchising women.

HASTINGS MOUNTS WITNESS STAND

Columbus, O., Feb. 3.—Te Kramer probe committee met and discussed, but postponed decision as to how much delving into the past should be undertaken. It was said enough delineancies in the past, like those charged against members of the present legislature, had been found to keep the committee busy two weeks if they were inquired into.

Representative Homer L. Hastings of Noble was put on the stand and stated he had built eight-tenths of a mile of state road in Noble county, for which he is to receive $10,865, that he did $11,000 worth of bridge building in Muskingum county and $6,000 worth in Monroe county. He said he did not bid for contracts until he had obtained the opinion of Attorney General Hogan and Special Counsel Laylin that it was proper for him to put in bids.

RUSSIA FOR CRANE

Washington, Feb. 3.—The understanding in Washington is that the ambassadorship to Russia, which was left vacant by the resignation of Henry M. Pindel of Peoria, Ill., will be offered to Charles R. Crane of Chicago. Mr. Crane was tendered the mission twice in the earlier months of President Wilson's administration, but found it inadvisable to accept because of business activities.

Mr. Pindel in his letter of resignation says that he could not in delicacy accept the appointment in view of the embarrassing statements that had been made in regard to it. Mr. Pindel made it known that he regarded the confirmation of his nomination by the senate as a complete vindication of himself in the face of what he termed "gross misrepresentations."

NEWS OUR FATHERS READ

By John E. M. Kerr.

March 13, 1873.

About 80 of our citizens went to Wilmington on Monday evening, by special train, to hear Anna Dickinson lecture. What a shame that our town cannot have a series of lectures during the "Lecturing Season."

At a special election on Saturday last, for Justice of Peace, his honor, J. B. Koontz carried off the prize by a majority of over 100. There were about 500 votes polled.

The Library Society will meet this evening at Fireman's Hall. The public are cordially invited to attend. A discussion will be had on the question: "Resolved, That No Property of a Debtor Should be Exempt from Execution." H. L. Hadley, Esq. for the affirmative, A. R. Creamer, Esq., negative.

NEWSY NOTES

(By John E. M. Kerr.)

Income tax blanks are being received here in numbers by persons the government officials suspect of possessing wealth. Most of the suspects are not guilty but thank the collector nevertheless for his attention.

Within five days after Engineer Hall met death as the result of burns received at the Springfield power plant, the Industrial Commission of Ohio awarded the widow compensation amounting to over $4,000.00. The award made the widow was computed upon the wages that her husband would have earned for 6 years. The sum will be paid her at one time or in monthly installments, as the widow desires.

An absolute "sure cure" for the cigarette disease is to simply wash out the victim's throat and mouth with a solution of silver nitrate. School boards of Cincinnati, Chillicothe and many other cities testify to the efficiency of the harmless cure as do also the juvenile court physicians who have experimented on boys and men strongly addicted to the habit. The cure is just as sure and advantageous to the adult as to the youth, it is claimed.

John Stadler, who struck a gas gusher at his fertilizer factory in the eastern part of the state January 31, closed a contract yesterday with the Ohio Gas Company for the gas he does not want for his own use. He will receive $700.00 a day for his surplus gas.

OCCUPATION FOR EVERY BOY AND GIRL

Compulsory Vocational Training of Children Proposed.

Philadelphia.—John Price Jackson Pennsylvania commissioner of labor and industry, declared at the annual meeting of the Consumers' league, held at the New Century club, that the woman's labor law, which went into effect on Nov. 1, 1913, was accepted generally by a great mass of employers throughout the state and, as far as he had received reports from his staff, had been accepted and put into force to a general extent.

With reference to the child labor legislation he said he believed that observance of it was becoming general and that the department was exerting every effort to enforce it. He expressed the belief that certain changes in the law were quite essential if it was to give the protection which the people of the state desired.

He hoped the next legislature would so combine the child labor laws with the vocational laws of the state that every employed boy and girl between the ages of fourteen and sixteen or possibly older should have the opportunity and be required to attend a vocational school one day each week.

This, he said, will require a compulsory clause in the vocational law now in force in the state.

Miss Florence Kelley, secretary of the National Consumers' league, said that

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING HELD

Forty-eight New Members Are Added To Fish and Game Association, Making Total Membership 102—Meeting Last Night Filled With Interest—Large Meeting Is Planned For Near Future.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association was held in Memorial Hall building Monday night with a goodly number of the members present.

Forty-eight new membership cards were received, bringing the total membership up to 102 and by the next meeting this number is expected to have increased to 125 or 150, as the property owners throughout the county are becoming aware of the benefits to be derived from such an organization.

More than two-thirds of the new members are farmers who are desirous of obtaining the protection that the Association extends to the lands of all members.

At the session Monday night an amendment was adopted providing that no money be expended for anything but actual expenses incident to conducting the affairs of the Association, and for the securing of fish and game to restock the county.

It was announced at the meeting that in the near future the officers of the association will give an oyster supper to the entire membership and this liberal offer on the part of the officers is expected to bring the entire membership together for business and a social hour. At that time State Fish and Game Commissioner, John C. Speaks, is expected to address the association.

SALE OF FINE DUROC JERSEYS

Saturday of this week, Mr. Hugh K. Stewart will hold his annual sale of pure bred, immunized Duroc Jersey swine, the sale to be held at the Hess Livery barn in this city, and sixty head of choice hogs have been consigned to the sale.

Mr. Stewart is recognized as one of the foremost breeders of pure bred Duroc Jersey hogs in the middle west, and his sales always attracted large crowds of buyers.

"Quo Vadis", George Kleine's superb photo drama spectacle that aroused so much enthusiasm in New York and crowding the Astor theater duplicated its success in Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston, will be presented for the first time in Washington C. H. on Thursday and Friday, February 5th and 6th with matinees each day.

From every viewpoint this is the most marvelous achievement in the photo drama realm and richly deserves its success. It is dramatic, spectacular and thrilling at the same time. The multitude of incidents contained in Henry Sienkiewicz's world famed story from which the pictures were made have been more than faithfully reproduced and all the romantic and historic values retained. For lovers of romance the beautiful story of the Roman youth Vintius' great love for the sweet young Christian girl, Lygia, is graphically visualized as well as the companion story of Peteronius' affection for his slave "Eunice". To admirers of history and searchers for thrills nothing can be more satisfying than these vivid pictures of the infamous Nero and his court, with its horrible though spectacularly gorgeous feasts and orgies; and they can find even more sensation in the reproduction of the tyrants' pleasures in the arena; the chariot races, gladiator combats and the rending of the faithful band of Christian martyrs by the ferocious lions, and in that crowning spectacle illustrating his infamous and imbecile vanity, the burning of Rome. Those who profit by and enjoy the lessons taught in the story take pleasure in the illustrated history of the birth of Christianity in Rome, the trials and experiences of the Christians, the teachings of Peter and Paul and the visitation of the Saviour to Peter on the Appian Way as he is about to desert Rome. In its entirety it is the most satisfying entertainment yet conceived in the broad field of motion photography.

The photo drama is divided into three acts with an intermission of eight minutes between each and consumes two hours and fifteen minutes at each performance.

DAYTON YOUTH IN COURT HOUSE

Marce Dwyer, aged 17, son of Geo. Dwyer, an employee in one of the city departments at Dayton, was found asleep on a couch in the private office of the Common Pleas Judge at the court house, Thursday morning.

He was discovered by employees at the court house, and it required the united efforts of several officials to awaken the sleeping boy.

When he was finally pulled from dreamland, he gave his name and all details connected with his presence at the court house, stating that he had entered the place through the basement late at night and had taken temporary possession.

His parents at Dayton were notified, and said the youth had left home five days ago, and to lock him up until the father could come after him. He was accordingly given a berth in the county jail.

Young Dwyre is apparently well educated and of good family. He had no money upon his person when found.

PARKER WILL DO SOME JANITOR WORK

Ed Parker, the man who was fined $25 and the costs and ordered to work out the fine and costs in the Xenia works, has been relieved of the work house sentence, and Judge Allen has ordered that he work out the fine as assistant janitor at the court house. He worked his first day Monday.

After fixing his sentence, Judge Allen decided that he would give the man a chance to contribute toward the support of his family as well as pay the fine, and in accordance with that decision he gave Parker his choice of working as assistant janitor when he was not regularly employed elsewhere, until the fine is worked out, or going to the works. He chose the former.

PALACE THEATER HAS NEW OWNERS

Jerome Taylor and J. Edmund Smith have purchased the Palace theater from Mark Mechlin, and will assume charge Monday of next week, Mr. Smith taking the active management of the Palace. The deal was closed Monday night.

Mr. Mechlin will leave for Mobile, Alabama, next week, to become associated with his father, who is engaged in the timber business at that place.

The Palace has long been a popular place of entertainment, and no changes will be made in the high class manner in which it has been conducted, it is stated.

LONG SESSION IS HELD BY THE CITY COUNCIL

own prison after ninety days, was read and placed on file.

Contractor Kinnean asked council to borrow money with which to pay the $1224.40 due him for paving alleys, and that he would pay the interest. He pointed out that the money had been due him since November 1st, but council had neglected to issue the necessary bonds.

Howell asked about the paving adjoining the Pavay property, as it was not clear where the cost had been assessed. A resolution, passed August 2, 1909, was read, and contained an agreement upon the part of Mary S. Pavay to construct a walk along the property. Some argument then arose between the engineer and agent for the Pavays, and the statement was made by Jay Williams that Mrs. Pavay had been unjustly assessed $66 and that part of the paving was not satisfactory. Sheets also stated that there was some dissatisfaction over the alley paving. H. H. Sanderson, representing the owner of the Millikan property on Fayette street, said a sewer connecting with the property, had been rendered useless by the paving. Engineer Jacobs stated that the paving was done according to contract. Contractor Kinnean stated that he had been careful about sewers, and that opposite the Millikan property the alley was so wet when they were paving it that considerable difficulty was experienced.

The matter wound up by no definite action being taken regarding the paving trouble.

Upon motion by Rowe a resolution providing for the borrowing of $1284.46 for 60 days, to pay the contractor, was read and passed under suspension.

Walter Ellis directed council's attention to the deplorable condition of Grace street—the first street east of North, and leading to the B. & O. stock yards. He said it was almost impassable, and that persons hauling hogs to the stock yards had run their wagons upon the sidewalks, and even into the yard fences in some places, because of the muddy condition of the street. He stated that it was the desire of the citizens in that neighbor hood to have the street, and also Pearl street opened across the railroad.

He called attention to former action toward opening Pearl street, and how the B. & O. officials had fenced off Pearl street and refused to lay a crossing.

Veall moved that Solicitor Gregg take the steps necessary to open both streets across the railroad.

An ordinance to regulate the cutting into streets and alleys, requiring all persons to secure a written permit from the service director, and providing a fine of $5 to $25 and the costs for failure to do so, was read and passed under suspension. A deposit of $10 and $25 is required, depending upon the kind of street or alley opened.

A resolution authorizing Safety Director Dial to sell the team of horses formerly used to the hose wagon, was passed.

An ordinance fixing the salary of the Municipal Civil Service commission, was read. No amount was mentioned in the resolution.

Another resolution for additional appropriation for expenses of the Civil Service commission, and for certain safety funds, was read once and placed in the hands of the Law and Ordinance committee. Both will be taken up at the next meeting.

Rowe stated that the Township trustees were desirous of a joint meeting with council to transact certain business, and upon motion by Sheets a joint meeting was called for Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Adjournment was then taken.

SQUIRRELS GOT ON A JAG.

Ate Candy Cocktails and Couldn't Climb Into Their Nests.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—When Bud Weeks goes fishing he always comes back with good catch or a good story. This is his latest:

"When I was going over on the Lake road," he said, "I saw two gray squirrels eating out of a pasteboard box. When I approached they staggered away like drunken men. I looked at the box and saw the reason why. It was labeled chocolate cocktails. It had probably fallen from a passing automobile."

"I watched those squirrels when they tried to climb a tree and get into their hole. They acted just like a drunken man trying to put a key in a keyhole, and they had about as much success. I went on fishing, but when I was coming home what do you suppose I saw?"

"Saw them signing the pledge," suggested Jim Graveson.

"Nope," said Bud; "they were both sitting at the side of the lake holding cakes of ice on their heads. They were a sick looking couple, I tell you."

SEAGULLS KNOW NOON HOUR.

Schoolgirls Feed Them at 12 o'Clock. Disappointed on Holidays.

Venice, Cal.—That seagulls are able to distinguish 12 o'clock noon from any other hour of the day, but not able to tell one day in the week from another, is the belief of the girl students of the high school here.

Every noon the gulls assemble on the canal at the entrance to the high school to be fed by the pupils who bring their lunches to school. They arrive punctually at 12 o'clock and remain until the students return to their classrooms.

The gulls, however, do not remain away on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. They will flock to the high school on these days the same as on school days and when they are not fed will screechingly circle the high school buildings and at 1 o'clock fly back to the beach.

NEW NAVY RADIO STATION.

Plant Near San Diego to Communicate With Hawaii.

Washington.—A great navy radio station capable of carrying on communication with Panama, Hawaii and the Atlantic coast will be built by the navy department near San Diego, Cal.

The erection of the station was authorized by congress in 1912. In September last a special board of naval officers investigated sites on the Pacific coast, chiefly around Los Angeles and San Diego. Finally site on La Cholla's heights, about four miles east of San Diego and eleven miles from the coast, was selected. It embraces seventy-three and one-half acres and has an elevation of about 450 feet.

The property will cost the government about $15,000. The selection has been approved by the navy department, and the purchase will be made forthwith.

M. E. HITCHCOCK, Mgr.

agricultural productioñ the employment of foreign labor has become a necessity. Every summer troops of foreign workmen may be seen passing through France offering their valuable help to the farmers, who could not gather in their harvests unaided. In the industrial domain this foreign invasion is not of accidental character, as in the case of agriculture; it is the result of contracts. It is impossible to tell how this work could be done if foreign labor were restricted by some fiscal tax and could not give the help which the country cannot, under present conditions, do withouts.

Washington.—The United States is not the only land where "back to the farm" is a cry earnestly raised in the hope of checking the abandonment of country places by young people for the excitements and quicker returns of city life. France has the problem to face this year in serious fashion, and French legislators are discussing whether or not it would be opportune at this time to impose a special fiscal tax on all foreign workmen who come to France in search of work, or, rather, to impose the tax on their employers, the idea being to force a chance for the native farm laborer, thereby preventing him from going to the city.

William H. Hunt, United States consulting from St. Etienne, says that so far no agreement on such foreign labor tax has been reached, as the question is considered in France extremely delicate and complex.

"From a national viewpoint," says Mr. Hunt, "it is desirable that work in France should be performed by French workmen alone, in order to push home industries and preserve trade secrets, yet such a measure would not be practical, for French workmen in other countries would be subjected to a similar tax. It is also said that foreign workmen are content with a smaller wage than Frenchmen.

For some the moderate pretensions are explained by the simple life these men are accustomed to lead, for others by the fact that they may have some private means.

One may readily understand that the head of an industry would preferably employ foreigners if they may be had at lower wages, but the natural effect of depressing the wages of the home workmen must not be overlooked, particularly in agriculture, where there is the greatest dearth of French laborers.

According to an inquiry made by the minister of agriculture, the following statistics were obtained:

"At present 2,320,000 persons are employed in agricultural pursuits in the whole of France, while in 189

In Social Circles

The M. H. G. class gave a hand-some banquet Monday night in the basement dining room of the Presbyterian church in honor of two of their members, Mrs. Fred Sprenger and Miss Fannie Hyer, who are compelled temporarily to leave the class, to its great regret.

Mrs. Sprenger goes to Mason City, Ill., where her husband will assume the management of the new mitten factory now being erected by the Inskip Manufacturing Co. of this city, and Miss Hyer to Huntington, W. Va., where she has accepted a position in a millinery shop.

The dining room presented a most attractive scene brightly lighted and the tables set in the shape of an "H" in compliment to Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins, teacher of the class. In the center scarlet carnations and greenery nodded from a cut glass vase and were reflected in a table mirror, garlanded with green. The place cards were cunning little valentines.

Forty young women were seated and served with a delicious four-course banquet. The supper was all the more appreciated when it was learned the members of the Social committee, assisted by the new officers, prepared and served the entire menu.

The committee includes Miss Carrie Kingsbury, chairman; Mrs. Will Klever and Miss Chloe Bonneutte the new officers; Miss Inez Rodgers, president; Mrs. Fred Wooldard, secretary; Mrs. Jacob Elliott, treasurer.

The supper hour was most delightful, with good wishes galore extended to Mrs. Sprenger and Miss Hyer, who responded cordially.

After the last course a business session was held at the table and the new officers installed. Mrs. Hopkins made a little speech of encouragement and suggestion to the new officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Story and little daughter, Mary Ann, went to Circleville Tuesday for a short visit with Mrs. Story's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Howard.

Miss Sadie Glenn, who has been spending the past year with her sister, Mrs. R. R. Kibler, left Tuesday morning for Kingsburg, Cal., to visit another sister.

Mrs. John Waddell and Mrs. Neil Weddell of Greenfield, spent Monday in this city.

Mrs. J. T. Tuttle is in Columbus today on business.

Mr. V. J. Dahl is a visitor at Maple Grove Springs today.

Miss Etta Junk, of Austin, is the guest of Miss Myrtle McCoy.

Mrs. M. F. Stuckey and daughter, Mrs. Glenn Rodgers went to Columbus Tuesday to visit the former's daughter, Mrs. Russell Evick.

LOVING CUP IS ON EXHIBITION HERE

Exhibited in the Washington Savings Bank and Trust Co. is the splendid silver loving cup won by Fayette county at the State Corn show recently held in Mansfield.

In 1908 the Ohio Farmer offered this cup to the county that would score the most points in the state corn show. In the January show of 1914 Fayette county scored 9 points out of a possible 15, and 27 other counties made the remaining six points.

This puts Fayette county way in the van guard of the Buckeye state.

The Washington Savings Bank has taken the greatest interest in Fayette agricultural progress, and has been active in promoting a spirit of rivalry in its agricultural contests.

It is the only bank in the county that paid the entire expense of a county corn contest trip to Washington, D. C. and Mt. Vernon during the past season, and took special interest in securing this cup for exhibition.

WINNING SQUAD HONORED BY SUPPER

The I. O. O. F. hall was the scene of a jolly gathering Monday evening, when the Imperial Degree Staff gave an oyster supper, in honor of the winning squad in the recent competitive drill.

Also as invited guests were the judges of the drill, Col. B. H. Millikan, Capt. O. E. Hardway, Capt. Howard C. Allen, and the trustees of the subordinate and the encampment branches, Messrs. Plyley, Bachert, Bonham, Hyer, McLean, Hollahan.

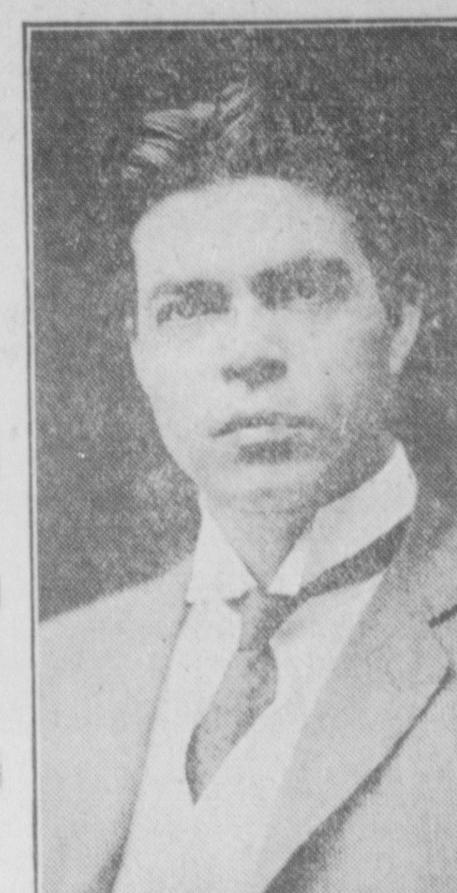

The supper was a most appetizing one, with all accessories that go with oysters, and the occasion one of great fraternal pleasure.

Excellent addresses were delivered by Hon. A. R. Creamer and Rev. A. W. West.

Mrs. Homer Barnes has joined Mr. Barnes in Cincinnati, after an extended visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Barnes. Mr. Barnes has under consideration the purchase of a picture show in Cincinnati.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED AFTER TWO YEARS

No small surprise was aroused in Washington circles, when, after two years the marriage of Miss Bess Blue was announced by cards going out Monday evening. The cards read:

Mrs. Laura O'Farell announces the marriage of her daughter, Eess Blue, to Mr. Edgar Jay Roose, on Saturday, February 3rd, 1912, Washington C. H., Ohio.

The bride is widely known as traveling traffic chief of the Bell Telephone company, and is a bright young woman of unusual business ability and pleasing personality.

Mr. Roose is plant chief of the Bell Telephone Co., at Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Roose have not decided upon their future plans. Mrs. Roose is greatly interested in her present work and will probably continue in it for the present.

The announcement is calling forth the best wishes of many friends in this city.

DEATHS

DAWSON.

Jacob Dawson, aged 71 years, died Monday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jennie Bateman in Columbus, Ohio. The remains will be brought to Bloomingburg Wednesday morning at 7:45 and taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Purcell, where funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock. Interment will be made in Bloomingburg cemetery.

The announcement is calling forth the best wishes of many friends in this city.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

CONFessions NOT CONCLUSIVE.

Under the American system of criminal procedure, confession of murder is not accepted as proof of guilt, and it must be confirmed by other and better evidence before the death penalty can be inflicted.

The wisdom of this is well illustrated by the doubts which have been thrown on the confession of young Carl, in New Jersey.

That Carl did admit the attempt to kill and serious wounding of Mr. Ellis is undenied, but investigation of his movements on the day of the shooting has created, if not quite a certainty, at least a high probability, that when the shooting occurred he was many miles away.

Carl has not repudiated his confession. His present contention and that of his defenders is that he was trapped by a private detective into boasting of a crime he had never committed, and that he did this to gain standing with one whom he thought to be himself a criminal.

This is not an incredible explanation, for boys of a certain well-known type—the type to which Carl seemingly belongs—do not rarely vaunt their wickedness when with those by whom wickedness is for one reason or another considered a merit.

This is an exact reversal of ancient practice, for once the law would not inflict capital punishment until guilt had been admitted. This compunction however, probably never saved a life firmly believed to be forfeited, for by torture sufficiently ingenious and prolonged prisoners could be and were made to say anything their judges desired.—Athens Messenger.

"Not Bad."

Hanging on the top of one of the stalls at a church bazaar recently was a sign which ran, "Luncheons, 1 to 3 p. m., 1s. 6d."

A country farmer and his wife were passing along, admiring the various stalls and their contents, when he espied the above sign and was seen to stop short and was heard to remark to his wife:

"We'll just hev oor denner here, Jen-

Cox Would Shorten Judicial Procedure.

MEASURE INSTANTLY LAUNCHED

Governor Authorized in a House Bill to Appoint Five Citizens For Municipal Tax Survey — Offerings to Clear Up Ambiguities in Torrens and Other Acts—Features of Cox's Message.

Columbus, O., Feb. 3.—Governor Cox postponed transmitting recommendation for the submission to vote of a resolution to repeal the constitutional provision that every county have a resident judge of the common pleas court. But in his message to the legislature he asked for a commission to investigate how to reform and shorten judicial procedure, and Senator Holden of Warren introduced a bill to create the commission, on which the governor may appoint from six to ten persons. The governor asked also that one of the Hamilton county courts be made a court of domestic relations to try divorce cases.

In addition to recommendations that had been made known beforehand, including a commission to survey the need of surrendering a larger portion of the state tax levy to municipalities, the governor asked that the state waive its claim to $42,000 interest upon state funds deposited in the defunct Columbus Savings and Trust company, in order not to cause the depositors greater loss.

To provide for the municipal tax survey, Representative Bour of Seneca introduced a bill authorizing the governor to appoint five citizens for whose expenses $1,000 is appropriated. Carrying out the governor's message, Representative Kilpatrick presented a bill to clear up the perplexity whether members of the state tax commission have terms of three years, as first provided, or of six years, as provided by the amended act, which, however, failed to repeal the three-term provision. According to the bill, Commissioner Pabst can be reappointed for three years, or until 1917, and his successors and the successors to the other commissioners are to serve six years.

To Correct Errors.

To clear up another ambiguity, pointed out by the governor, Representative Browns of Ashland put in a bill providing that the salary of the dean of the college of agriculture, Ohio State university, as a member of the state agricultural commission, be paid by the university.

Representative Reid, author of the Torrens land registry law, introduced a bill correcting minor errors in that act as recommended by the governor. New house bills not covered by this message were by Mr. Cameron of Deane, to provide for teaching in the public schools methods of prevention of the spread of dangerous diseases, and by Mr. Weish of Ottawa to regulate carp fishing.

With addition of provisions for appointment of witnesses at the polls in referendum elections to represent interested organizations, the Initiative and referendum safeguard bill was reported to the house calendar.

Representative Smith of Morgan, in order to acquaint school men quickly with the provisions of the new school legislation, offered a resolution to have State Superintendent of Instruction Miller print 35,000 copies of the school laws of this session.

The Republicans interposed no obstacle to the speeding up process for the final week. They caucused, but

PRESIDENCY OF ISLAND IS STAKE

Washington, Feb. 3.—The Haitian situation is growing daily more complex and disorderly. A battle is now in progress at Gonaves between Senator Theodore and General Zammor, two of the candidates for the office of president, left vacant by the abdication of President Oreste last Tuesday. Each of the rival leaders is said to have about 500 men and himself.

The United States naval yacht Eagle is at Gonaves, but can land only 30 men. This number is so small in comparison to the numbers of the opposing forces that it has not been thought advisable to send any American bluejackets ashore. The German cruiser Vienta, which landed 70 marines at Port-Au-Prince, has gone to Gonaves and may send a party ashore.

MURPHY VOTED OUT OF TAMMANY

New York, Feb. 3.—A row over Charles F. Murphy split the National Democratic club in two and caused one of the wildest political hullabaloos ever seen in this city.

It was caused by the attempt of Judge Edward F. O'Dwyer, the new president, and his friends, to demand Mr. Murphy's retirement from the party leadership and to commit the club to Democratic reorganization in the city and state. The judge made a speech denouncing Mr. Murphy.

Thomas F. Smith, secretary of Tammany Hall and chief clerk of the city court of which Mr. O'Dwyer is chief judge, defended the leader of Tammany Hall.

Judge O'Dwyer offered a resolution calling for Mr. Murphy's "immediate retirement from all participation in party affairs." Mr. Smith wanted it laid on the table. The judge would not permit it. He called for an aye and no vote on the resolution. Mr. Smith demanded a rising vote, but President O'Dwyer, saying that the motion was carried, adjourned the meeting.

The pro-Murphy crowd followed the judge to the street, yelling and jeering. Smith accused O'Dwyer of running away. Finally the Murphy men went back into the assembly room and had a rump meeting.

BANKRUPTCY GANG

New York, Feb. 3.—Four men and a woman, all of whom are related, were added to the list of those who have been indicted for conspiring to conceal assets of bankrupt estates since District Attorney Marshall began his active crusade to exterminate the bankruptcy ring. So far 16 indictments have been handed down by the two special grand juries investigating the practices of the insolvency ring, and several more are expected.

BISHOP BRENT TO CONTINUE WORK

Devotes Life to Aiding the Filipinos In Every Way.

FOR BETTER EDUCATION.

Churchman Has Civilized Many Tribes. Some Formerly Lived In Tree Tops. Now They Own Comfortable Houses—He Hopes to Eliminate the Chronic Ailments as Malaria, Etc.

New York.—A national committee has been formed to help the work of Bishop Charles H. Brent among the savages in the Philippines. Bishop Brent, who attended the Episcopalian convention, returned to the Philippine Islands to continue his work among the Moro tribes. He is a great believer in the possibilities for Christian work among these little brown people, who subsist on camotes and corn, wear no garments and make their homes in tree tops.

His friends in this country have just organized a national committee for upbuilding the wards of the nation. This committee is working under the auspices of the Harmony Club of America, which has a membership of several thousand men and women throughout the United States who are interested in uplift work.

Bishop Brent has been in the Philippines since 1901 and has devoted his life to this work in the islands. He has already accomplished great good among these wards of the United States. For instance, in one section families who were dwelling in tree tops two years ago now have comfortable homes in decent villages and are cutting their grass with American lawn mowers. The telephone, telegraph, sewing machine, automobile, railroad, farming tools and other modern inventions are increasingly welcomed and used by the natives, who are not devoid of intellectual capacity and have considerable manual dexterity.

The plans of Bishop Brent take in the social, industrial, educational and evangelistic work among the million or more pagan and Moro inhabitants. He hopes to cure them of their chronic ills, such as malaria, bookworm, black fever and the like and teach them how to live so as to avoid the tropical diseases, most of which are due not to the climate, but to unhygienic habits.

OSBORNE BANKERS AGAIN INDICTED

Xenia, O., Feb. 3.—President J. H. Barkman, Vice President J. C. Smith and Cashier C. C. Jackson of the Osborne bank, which failed last June, were indicted charged with making a false entry on the bank's books. The officials were jointly indicted two weeks ago on two charges of violation of the banking laws.

NOT FOR N. C. R.

Dayton, O., Feb. 3.—President J. H. Patterson of the National Cash Register company gave out a statement declaring that the big plant here would not follow the profit-sharing plan of Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer of Detroit. The fact that the plant has a heavy indebtedness hanging over it would preclude such action, Mr. Patterson says in his statement.

ATTORNEY MISSING

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 3.—Luis Sandoval, a Mexico City attorney who came here to try to induce Pancho Villa to renounce Carranza and join hands with Felix Diaz, is mysteriously missing. He left his hotel here after paying his bill and went to Juarez. When leaving the hotel he said he was going to New York, but no trace can be found of his having purchased a ticket out of El Paso. The rumor is persistent that he was slain in Juarez.

FOR CONSPIRACY

New York, Feb. 3.—It took a jury just 50 minutes to convict Curly Joe Cassidy and his right-hand man, Louis T. Walter, Jr. The verdict was returned to Justice Jaycox in the supreme court in Brooklyn. The charge is conspiracy in having sold to William Willets, Jr., his nomination to the supreme bench in 1911. The maximum penalty is two years' imprisonment and $3,000 fine.

House Adopts Amendment to Immigration Bill.

GOT DISTURBS ADMINISTRATION

Held That Undue Prominence Is Given the Exclusion Question at This Juncture in the Diplomatic Negotiations Now in Progress Between the United States and Japan. Further Irritation Feared.

While the vote taken is tentative

ANOTHER SURPRISE SPRUNG

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., February 3.—Another new development was thrown today into the freight rate case before the Interstate Commerce Commission in which the 52 eastern railroads are seeking to advance their charges five per cent, when Commissioner Harlan announced that the commission intended to hold supplementary hearings on the question and fix reasonable charges for free service railroad systems had performed for large industrial plants.

These recent decisions in the industrial railroad case indicated that such free service to so-called trusts, not only cost the railroad systems about fifteen million dollars, but discriminated against smaller industries.

DEMANDS MADE BY MINE WORKERS

By Associated Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., February 3.—Flat increase of 5 cents a ton on a mine run basis, a ten per cent increase on dead work, yardage and day labor, and a half-holiday on Saturdays, were the principal recommendations of the scale committee, submitting to the convention of the United Mine Workers of America today.

The report is the basis of work of the joint conference of miners and operators of the central competitive district. President John P. White of the organization spoke in favor of the 5 cent advance. He said the amendment was reasonable and believed that it would be granted by the operators.

The recommendations of the scale committee were adopted without change.

$62,000 FINE IS AFFIRMED

By Associated Press.

Cincinnati, Ohio, February 3.—A decision assessing fines totaling $62,000 on charges of giving and taking rebates was affirmed in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals here today. The case was appealed to the court here by the Hocking Valley R. R. and the Sunday Creek Coal Company. The defendants, who were charged in the indictments of the U. S. District court of Cleveland with violation of the Interstate Commerce laws and the Elkin act, were fined $62,000. The Hocking Valley company is fined $42,000 and the coal company $20,000.

FORGERS MAY BE DRIVEN FROM TOWN

John Curtis and Leonard Wilson, the two colored youths who were lodged in jail Sunday morning for forging checks, may be released upon their own recognizance with instructions to report for trial at some future date.

The pair confessed that they thought the crime was punishable by jail sentence, and that they committed the offense with the hope of having shelter and food for a time at least. They were terrified when they learned that the offense is punishable with a penitentiary sentence.

JOINT SESSION IS HELD TODAY

Supt. Geo. Gossard Again Employed For Term of Two Years as Superintendent of the Washington Cemetery at $900 Per Year—Committee Appointed to Make Inspection.

At the joint session of the City Council and Union Township Trustees, held at the council rooms Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, Supt. of the Washington Cemetery, George Gossard, was again employed as superintendent of the cemetery for a period of two years, with a salary of $900.

The action was taken by the adoption of a resolution upon which all voted yes with the exception of M. Tracey and P. Tracey.

Another resolution was passed whereby the salary of Mrs. Gossard was fixed at $200 per year, for services rendered. This allowance was not made last year.

A committee consisting of Councillman Rowe and Sheets and Trustee Williams, was appointed to make a monthly inspection of the affairs of the office.

Little argument was made during the session, and nearly all members of both bodies were present.

APPEAL MADE TO ENJOIN STRIKERS

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, February 3.—An injunction restraining the American Flint Glass Workers' Union from interfering with the operation of its plant in this city by non-union men was asked for in the U. S. District court here today by the Federal Glass company.

A strike has been in progress at the plant since July 17, 1913. Federal Judge Sater issued subpoenas for John Gilloole of Grafton, W. Va., and twenty local men to give testimony in connection with the hearing, upon the application for an injunction. The Flint Glass Workers' Union is charged with "abusing, vilifying and intimidating non-union men."

YALE RECEIVES LARGE BEQUEST

By Associated Press.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 3.—The bequest of $500,000 to Yale by Lord Strathcona, came as a complete surprise to university authorities, according to a statement by the college secretary today. "We have had no information bearing upon this gift," said the statement. "Its use depends entirely upon the provisions of the will."

WOMEN SLOW TO TAKE HOLD

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Ill., February 2.—Newly enfranchised women were generally slow in registering for the primary election which is to mark their advent in general political circles in this city. In some of the strictly residential wards few women visited the voting places in the early hours.

"Detained by house-hold duties" was the explanation given by the women clerks and judges of election. One woman found at the wash tub by an automobile scouting party said, "Sure I'll go and register now—if you will just finish the wash."

CAHILL BILL DEFEATED

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, February 3.—Efforts of Representative Nungesser, of Crawford county, to amend the Cahill bill so that it would provide only for the teaching of agriculture in all of the villages and rural schools of the state, was defeated in the lower House today.

The bill was passed, changed only with an amendment which requires agriculture commissioners to possess the same qualifications as county and district superintendents. As amended, the bill must go back to the senate for concurrence. The bill introduced by Representative Dickson of Washington county, authorizing the state armory board to accept a gift of land in Marietta to be used as a site for an armory building to be erected also was passed. This legislation was recommended in the message Governor Cox sent to the legislature yesterday.

The action was taken by the adoption of a resolution upon which all voted yes with the exception of M. Tracey and P. Tracey.

Another resolution was passed whereby the salary of Mrs. Gossard was fixed at $200 per year, for services rendered. This allowance was not made last year.

A committee consisting of Councillman Rowe and Sheets and Trustee Williams, was appointed to make a monthly inspection of the affairs of the office.

RECEIVES MONEY FOR DEFACED BILLS

The local authorities have received word from the Cincinnati branch of the United States Secret Service Bureau, authorizing them to pay to Mr. F. O. Cline the sum of $2 for bills turned over to the Federal authorities some three months ago when William Cramblet was operating here by raising one dollar bills to five dollars by pasting the number five over the one.

The bills were turned over to Mr. Cline by Elmer McCune and R. W. Howland, who had received the defaced bills from Cramblet.

A photograph of Cramblet, together with Bertillion measurements, was enclosed in the communication.

Cramblet is now serving a five-months sentence in the Ross county jail for counterfeiting, and will be released about April 10th.

YOUNG WIFE CALLED BY DEATH

A sad death occurred Monday evening at 7:15, when Leja Campbell, wife of Mr. John Campbell, a young wife of only twenty-two, passed quietly away, after a brief illness, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Lienetta Allen, on Clinton avenue.

Mrs. Campbell had many warm friends in this community, who will learn of her death with personal sorrow and great sympathy for the bereaved husband and little two-year-old child; also for the mother and brothers, Homer and Otis Allen.

The funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, at the residence, and burial in the Bloomingburg cemetery.

COMPLAINT MADE AGAINST CYCLISTS

Much complaint has arisen over the almost incessant use of certain sidewalks by youthful cyclists.

One of the most frequented walks is that on North street, where boys and girls have been using their bicycles upon the sidewalks to the inconvenience and annoyance of pedestrians.

At one time Tuesday four bicycles were in view upon the sidewalks of North street. The attention of the police has been called to the misuse of the sidewalks and the practice will be stopped at once, it is claimed.

CALLED TO KENTUCKY BY DEATH OF BROTHER

Mrs. W. B. Woodward was called to Lexington, Ky., Tuesday morning by the sudden death of her brother, Mr. Ernest Neville Forsythe, a well-known lumber dealer of Lexington.

Mrs. Woodward is the only one of the family able to attend the funeral, a sister being in the Philippine Islands and a brother in California.

Mrs. Woodward has the sympathy of many friends in the shock of her bereavement.

The woman's missionary society of the First Baptist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Paul Hildebrandt on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. All members of the church are invited to attend.

PARENTS DO NOT REALIZE DANGER

Neglect Nearly Causes Child to Spend Sightless Life.

One of the visiting eye nurses sent out by the Ohio Commission for the Blind found this bright little girl in a home near Cleveland, and through her work and the aid of the commission restored the child's vision.

On the chair sits Mary with her face downward. The light hurts her eyes. She was threatened with blindness from corneal ulcers, and unless prompt treatment is given her the better part of her vision will be gone forever.

Cheerful in the extreme, Mary complained very little, but was readily induced to accept the treatment of the visiting nurse. The parents, who failed to realize the danger, were not able financially to employ an expert.
